CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINT:
Isuzu LOPEZ-Narvaez*PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

On March 11, 2008, at approximately 2:20 P.M., Border Patrol Dispatch advised Agents of a seismic sensor activation near the area commonly known as "The Razorback." This area is approximately one eighth of a mile east of the San Ysidro, California, Port of Entry and one half mile north of the United States/Mexico international border. Border Patrol Agent M. Rosales responded to the area and found six individuals crouched down in some brush. Agent Rosales identified himself as a Border Patrol Agent, and conducted an immigration inspection. All six, including one later identified as the defendant Isuzu LOPEZ-Narvaez, admitted to being citizens and nationals of Mexico illegally present in the United States. Agent Rosales arrested and transported all six subjects to the Imperial Beach Border Patrol Station for processing.

Routine record checks of the defendant revealed an immigration history. The defendant's record was determined by a comparison of his immigration record and the defendant's current fingerprint card. Official immigration records of the Department of Homeland Security revealed the defendant was previously deported to Mexico on January 17, 2008 through San Ysidro, California. These same records show that the defendant has not applied for permission from the Attorney General of the United States or his designated successor, the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security, to return to the United States after being removed.

The defendant was read his Miranda rights, which he acknowledged and was willing to make a statement without an attorney present. The defendant stated that he was a citizen and national of Mexico without valid immigration documents to enter or remain within the United States legally.
